

Prof. Hainisch, president of the Republic, officially opening the recent commercial fair at Vienna. Underwood & Underwood.

A Soviet Red Guard, photographed in front of the Kremlin, Moscow. Attached to his bayonet is the red flag of the revolution. International.

This remarkable piece of wood carving which is now in New York is the work of the monks of Mount Athos monastery in Salonica and required fifteen years to complete. It is called the Mysteries and the Life of Christ. Schuyler C. Lee.

Mrs. Tom Wintringham is the second woman elected to the House of Commons and will join Lady Astor there. She will occupy the seat made vacant by the death of her husband. (c) Kadel & Herbert.

Above — Alvin S. Page of the Railway Mail Service at Fort Worth took the place of the regular messenger, who was to be shot dead by bandits in a hold-up. The shooting took place but it was the bandits who were killed. Postmaster General Hays (left) commended and rewarded him. (c) Harris & Ewing.

At right — First photograph of Admiral Henry B. Wilson, commandant of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, taken with his two aides. Left to right: Capt. T. R. Kurtz, Admiral H. B. Wilson, Commander I. C. Kidd. (c) Harris & Ewing.

The new valor medal of the New York Police Department, named in honor of Martin J. Sheridan, famous athlete-police man.

The late Col. Theodore Roosevelt and the late Cardinal Gibbons greeting each other. The photograph was presented by the Cardinal to the Knights of Columbus. International.

Brig.-Gen. Frank L. Winn, chief of staff of the 2nd Army Corps Area with headquarters at Governors Island, promoted to succeed Gen. Jesse McL. Carter, retired. Keystone View Co.

Prince Iyesato Tokugawa, president of the Japanese House of Peers, who will head the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference called for Nov. 11. (c) Harris & Ewing.